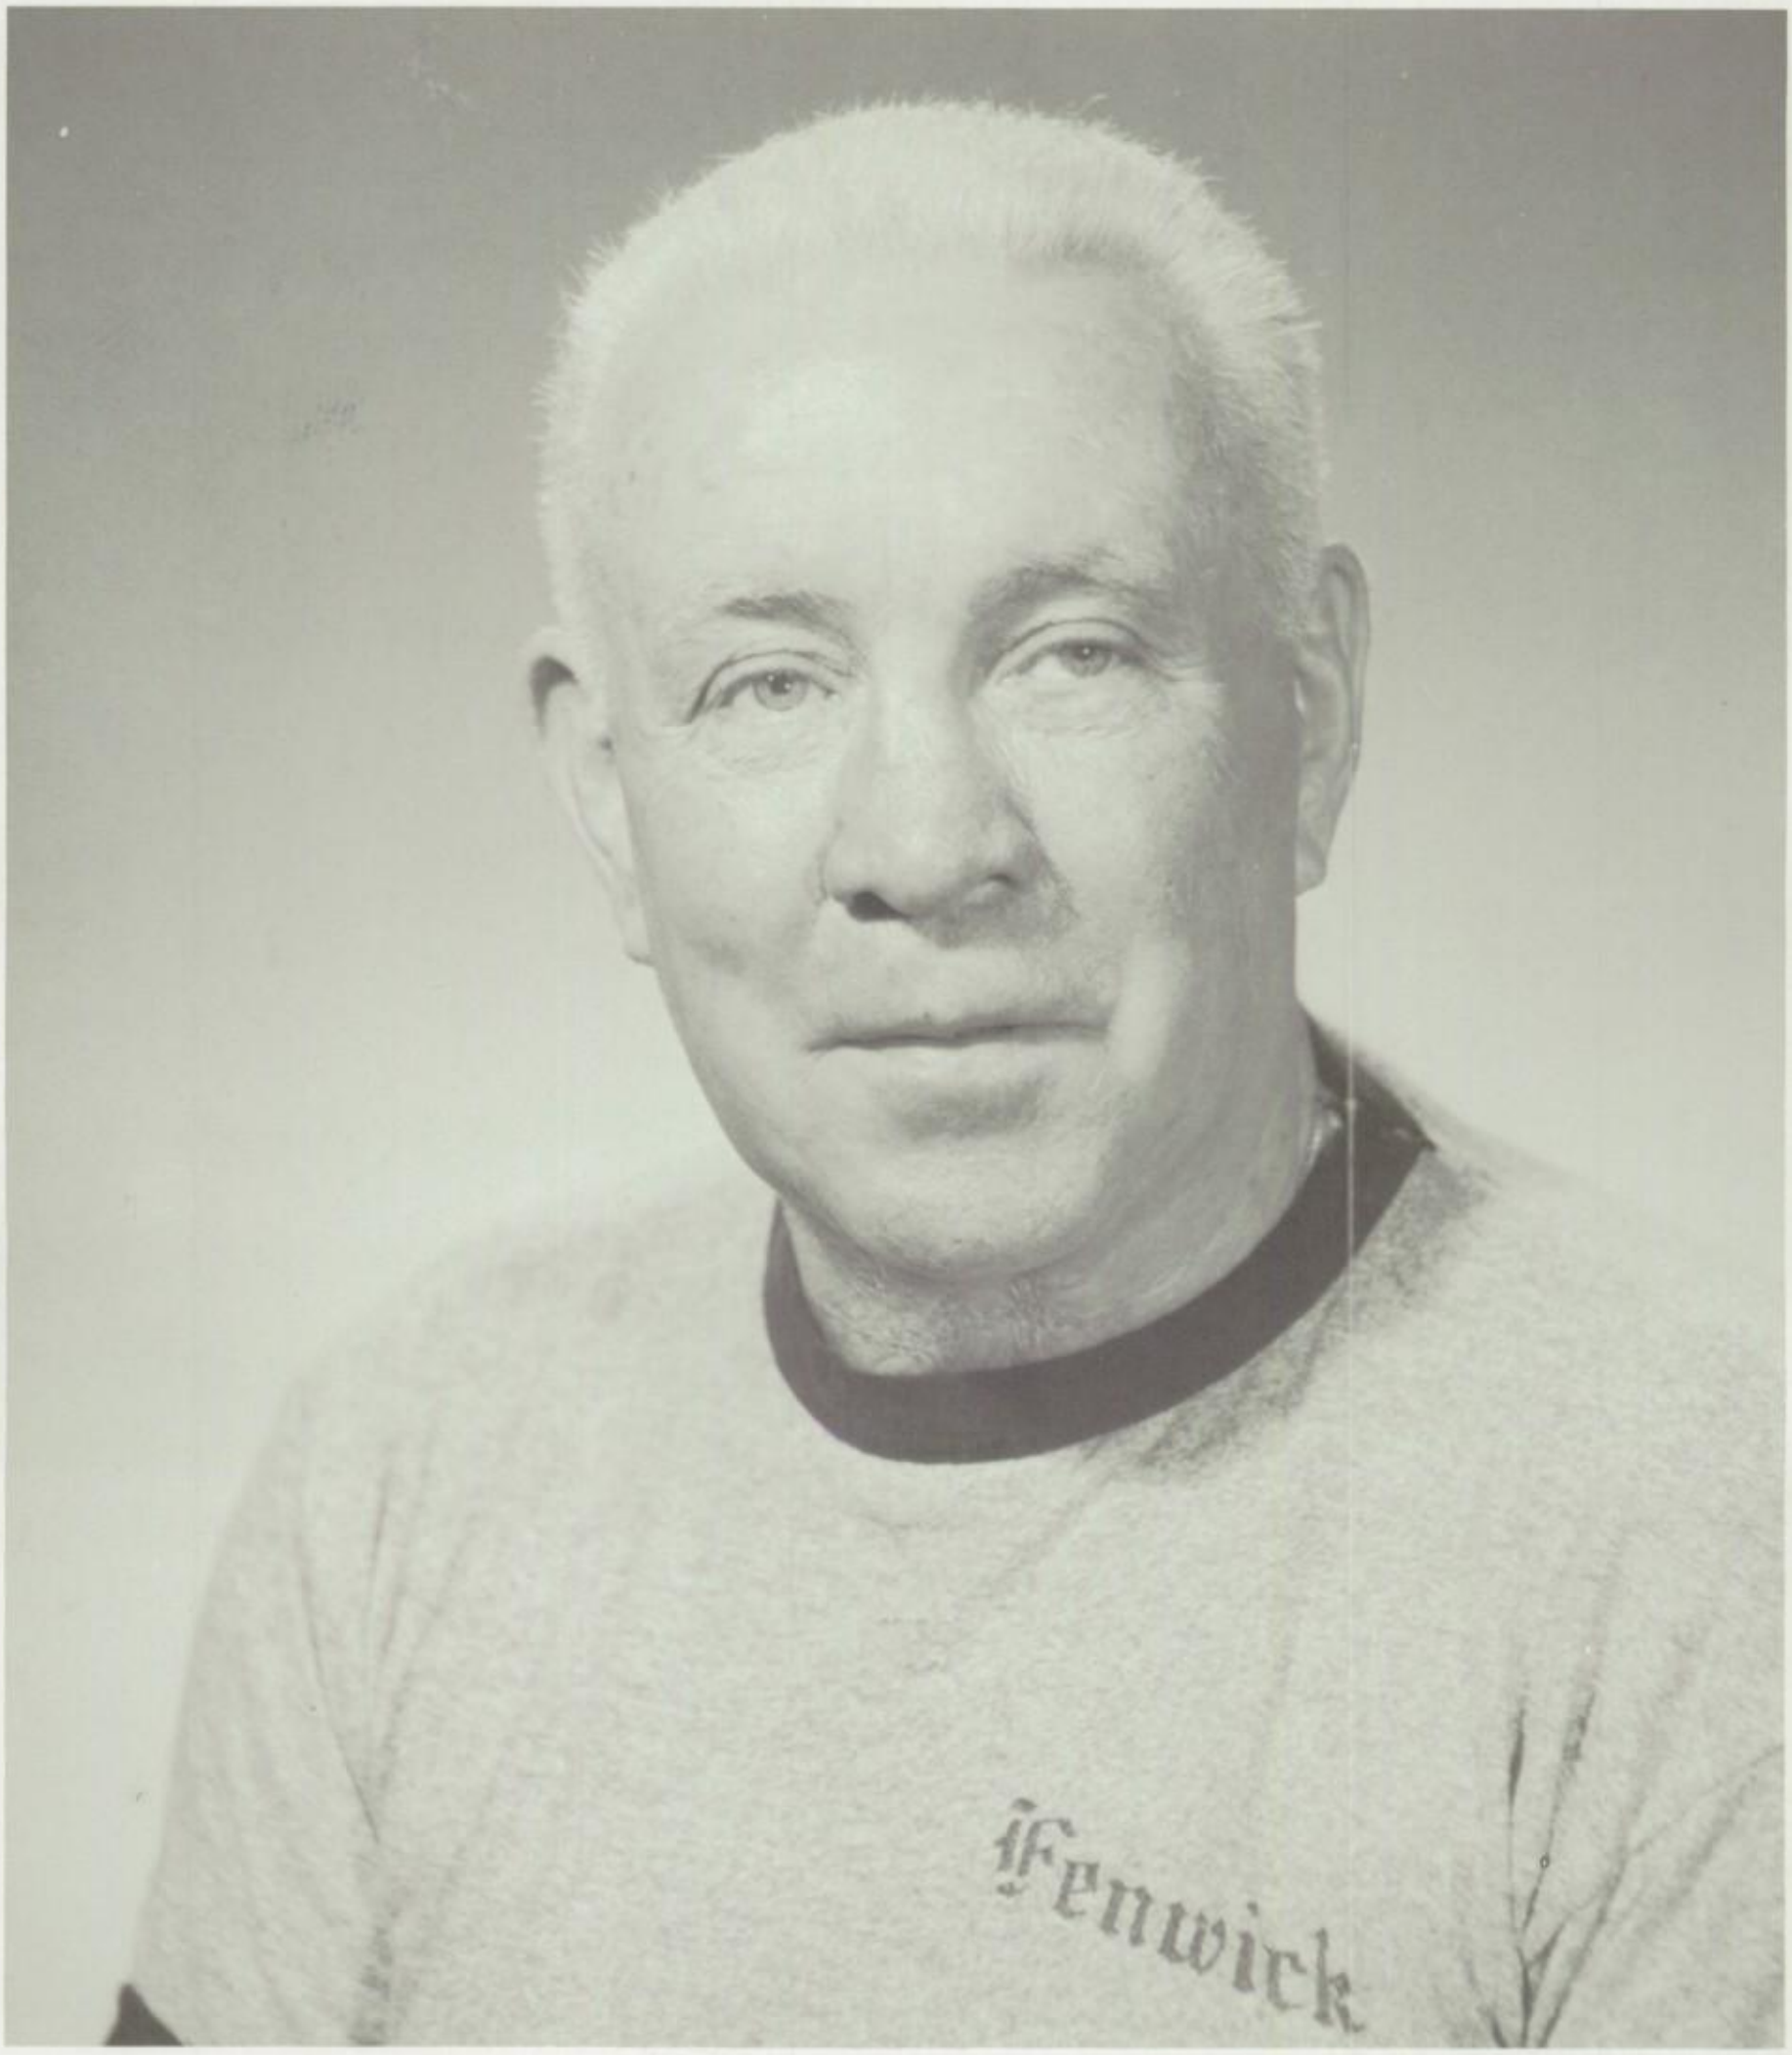
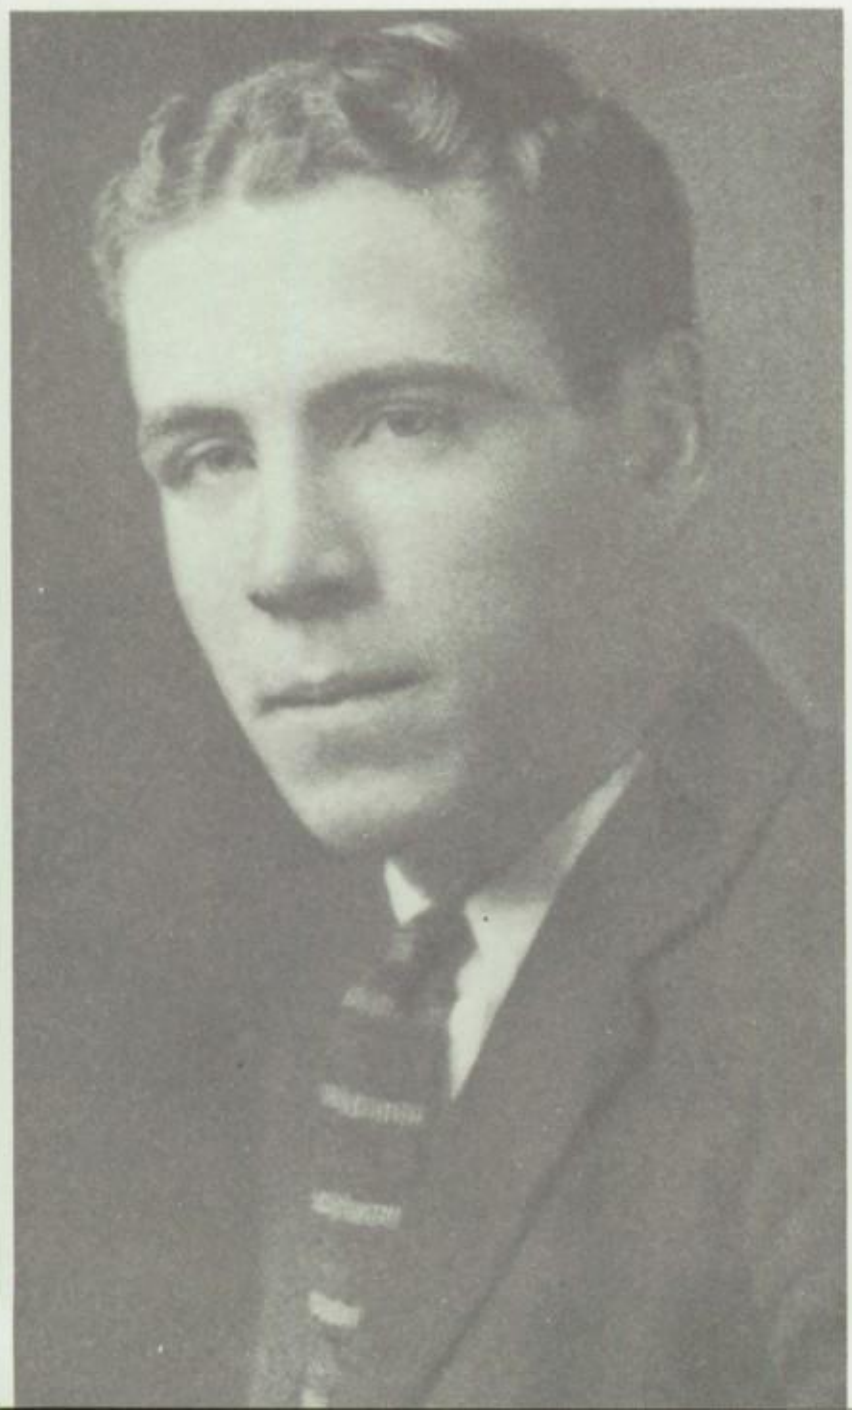
IN MEMORIAM

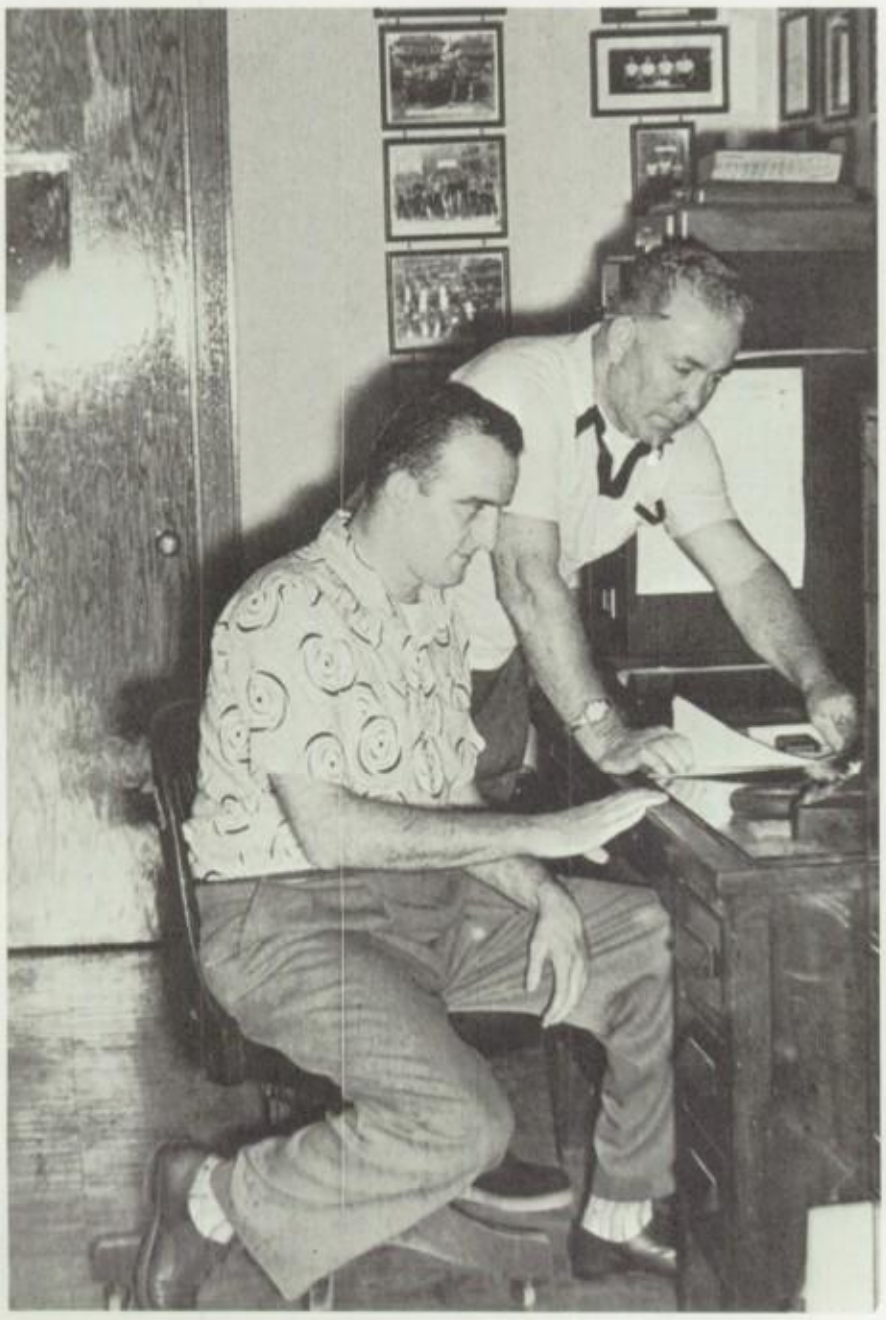
Anthony R. Lawless

December 28, 1902 - November 15, 1976



Fenwick High School
From 1929 To 1976





There comes a time in the life of every athlete when he draws back and takes a hard look at his experiences in order to assess the returns that might have been. His initial inclination will be to recall the emotional peaks, the victories: the win over Loyola's football team; the water polo's state championship; the cross country effort against Gordon Tech; the golf team's close finish in the League and district competition; our tennis team's dramatic victory in straight sets. It is perfectly natural to cling to these memories for personal satisfaction.

However, one's more meaningful returns - rewards that will affect one's life-style and personality will come in the form of character formation. This type of return will, in most cases, come as a result of behavior patterns formed from personal contacts - benefits derived from the regard for one's leader or coach. No doubt most students, presumably, have developed this type of respect for their respective coaches.

I believe that it is very timely to consider the returns we have received from our association with the incomparable Tony Lawless. this very unusual man had personal characteristics that are rare by any standard of reference. His life-style was anything but commonplace; it was truly unique. Father Conley's beautiful homily reflected insight into Tony's character in his peak years as a coach. My forty-six years with him have given me a singular opportunity to discern what made him tick and the legacy he has left us.

A Supreme Court justice said he learned in his youth a lesson that remained indelible throughout his life: human happiness is not gained from a series of pleasures but from total dedication to a goal above and beyond oneself. An even greater authority said: "He who loses his life shall find it; he who finds his life shall lose it." It is a lesson of history that happiness comes only to those who surrender themselves to a work greater than themselves. There is no greater delight than to feel necessary to something you love. A young mother, even if ill herself - when walking the floor at midnight with her sick infant - is doing what she prefers to all else in the world. Children never understand mothers until they have children of their own. Tony would have no trouble discerning that young mother's feelings.

Father Gainor, the founding principal of Fenwick and a priest of exceptional talent and insight - who brought Tony to Fenwick, had a "rule of thumb" in judging the potential value of a student or employee. He believed that a person - regardless of his shortcomings - had value to Fenwick if he had demonstrated love for Fenwick. Tony Lawless was close to the heart of that tradition.

Tony truly lived his work in a most extraordinary way; he really relished coming to work in the mornig. The size of his salary was of little or no consideration with him. He filled his every day in a work he deeply loved; being paid for it was a bonus. Tony was a romantic at heart. While still very young, he fell in love with Fenwick and all it stood for. To the very end, that love was undiminished. What he left us came from a great heart in love with a sublime dream.

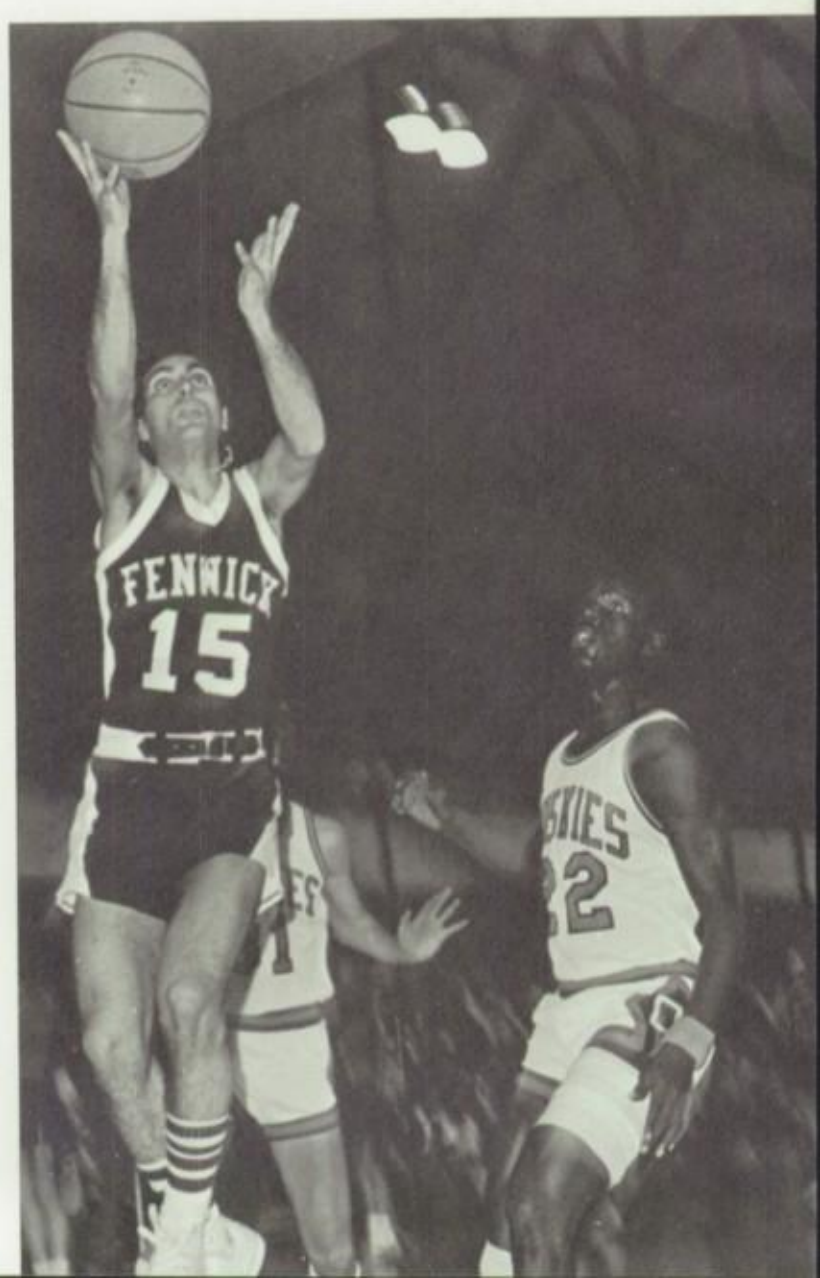
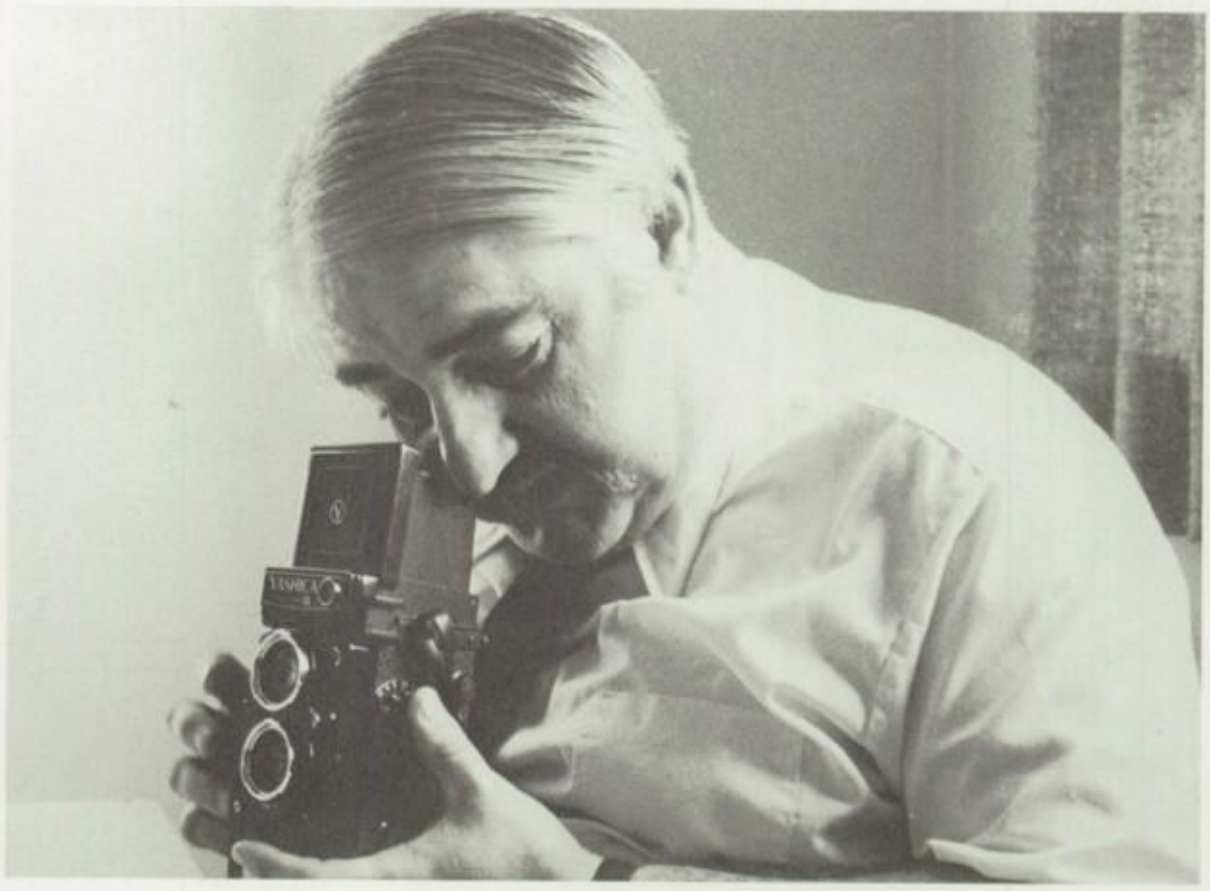
Nineteen Seventy-Seven

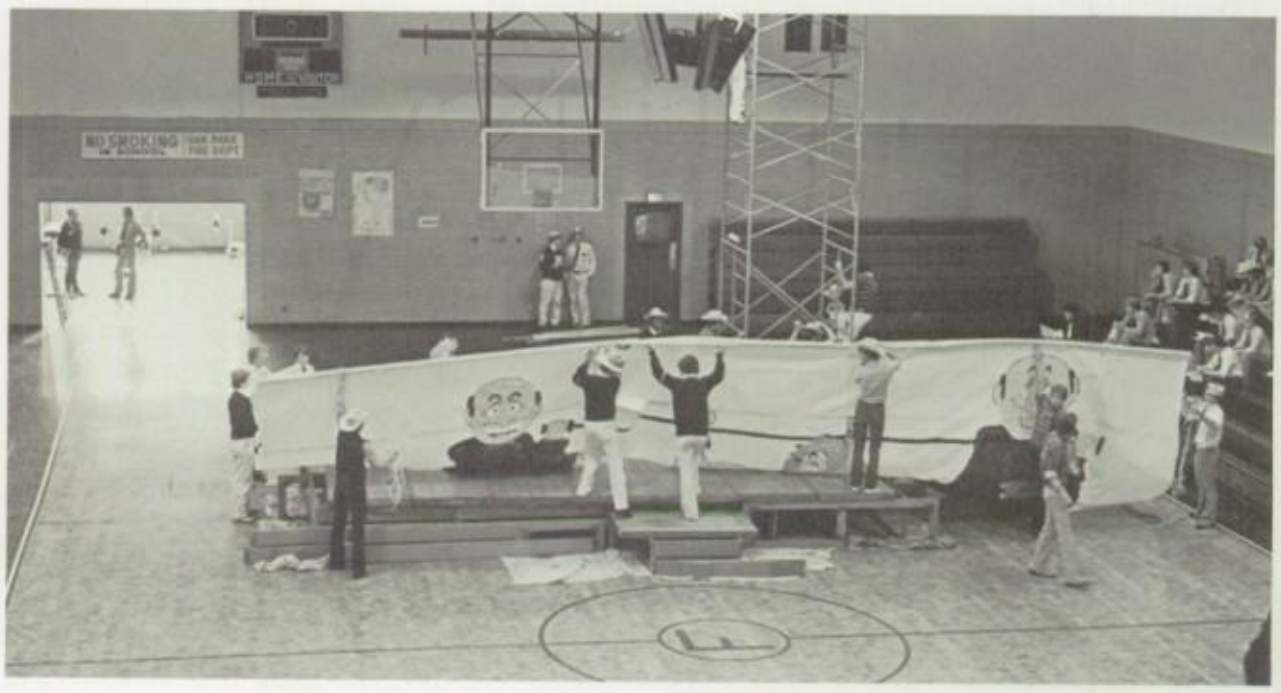
There are years, and there are great years.

What makes these dates stand tall among all time?

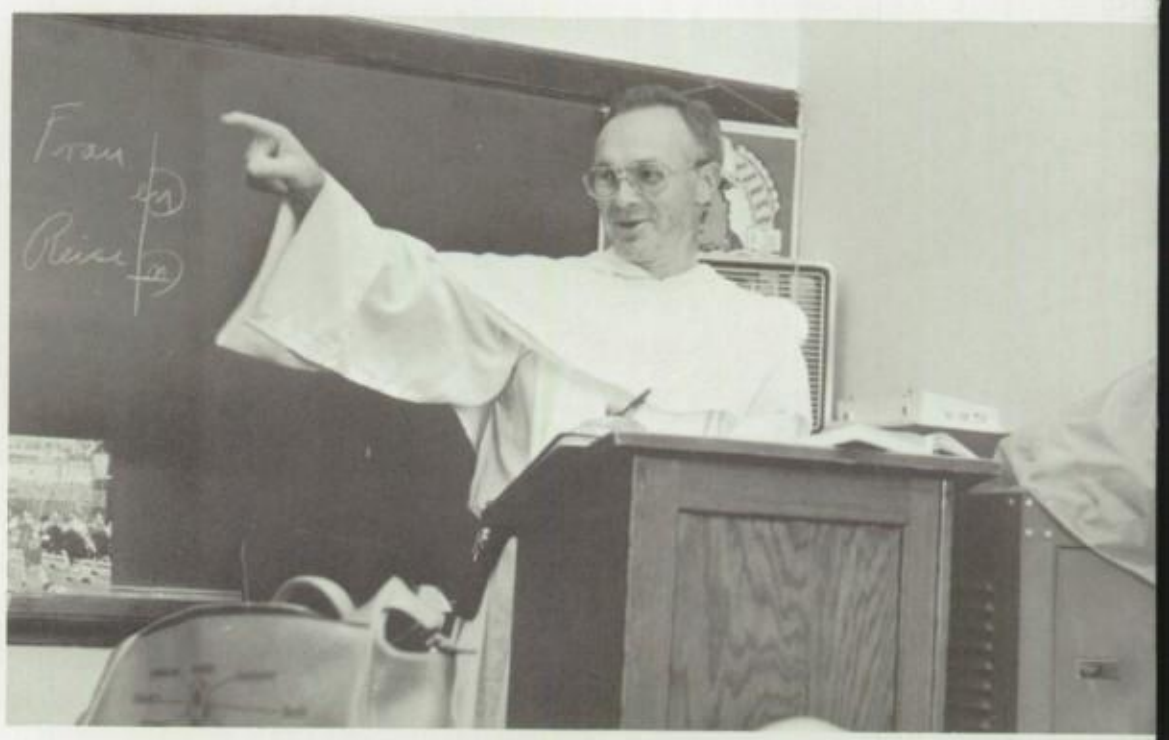




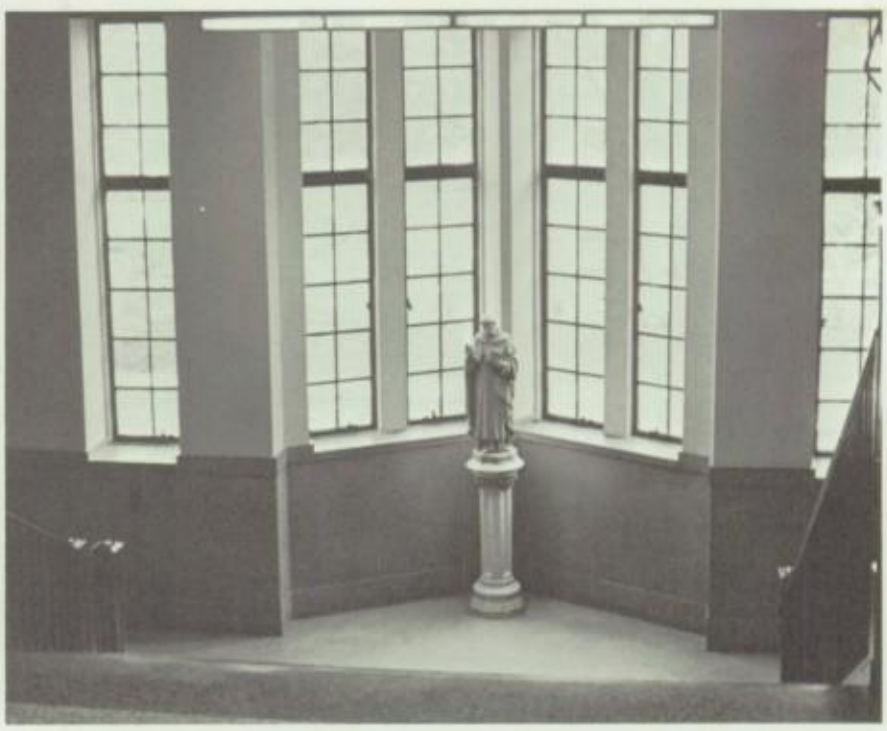
Will we remain in the picture,



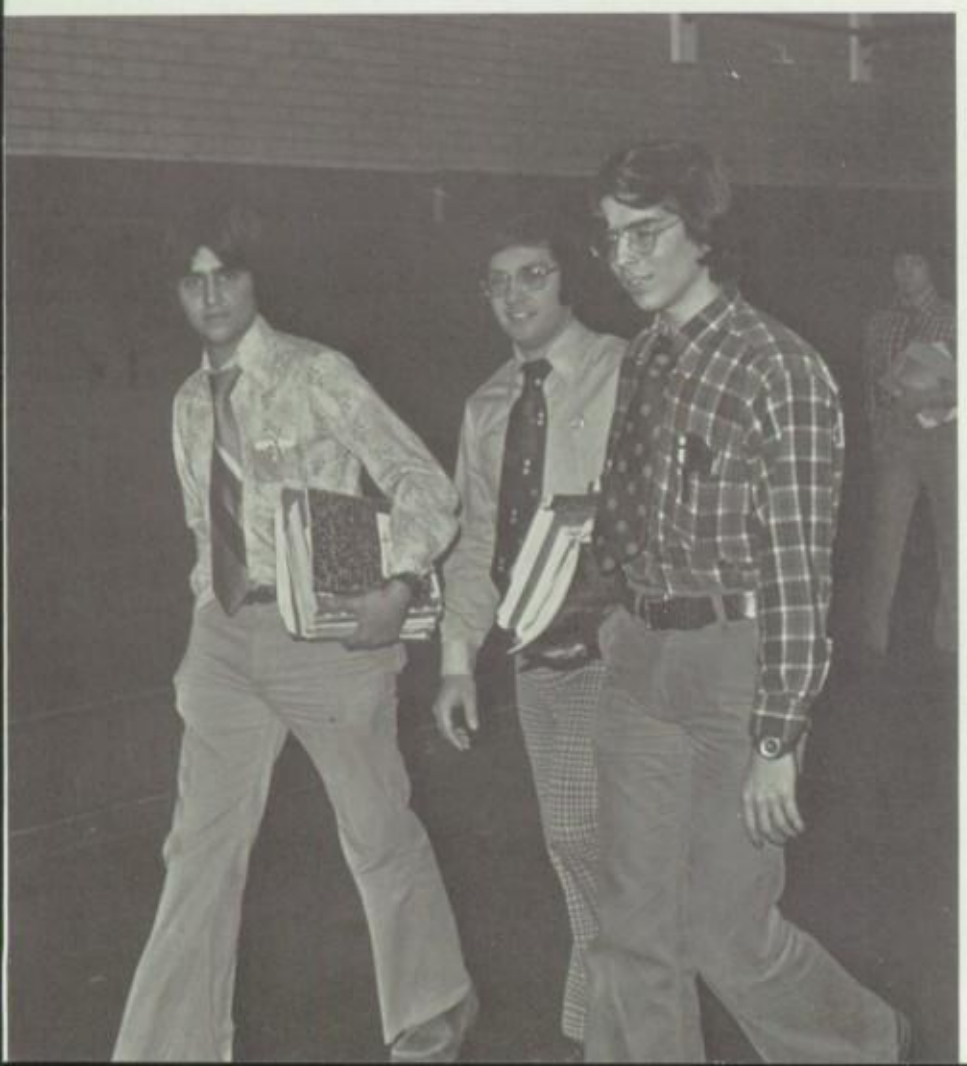
for all men to remember and sculpture?

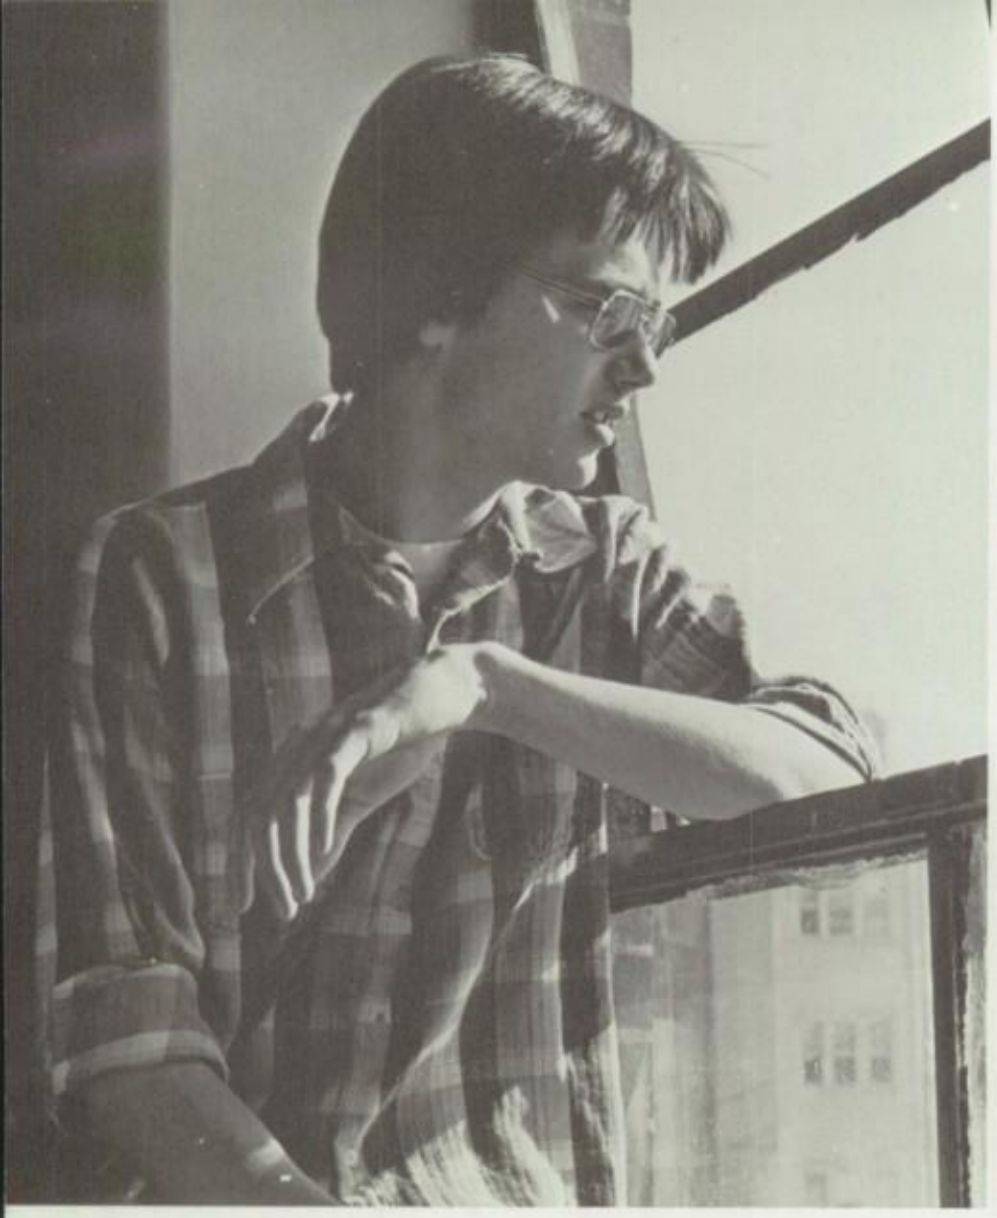


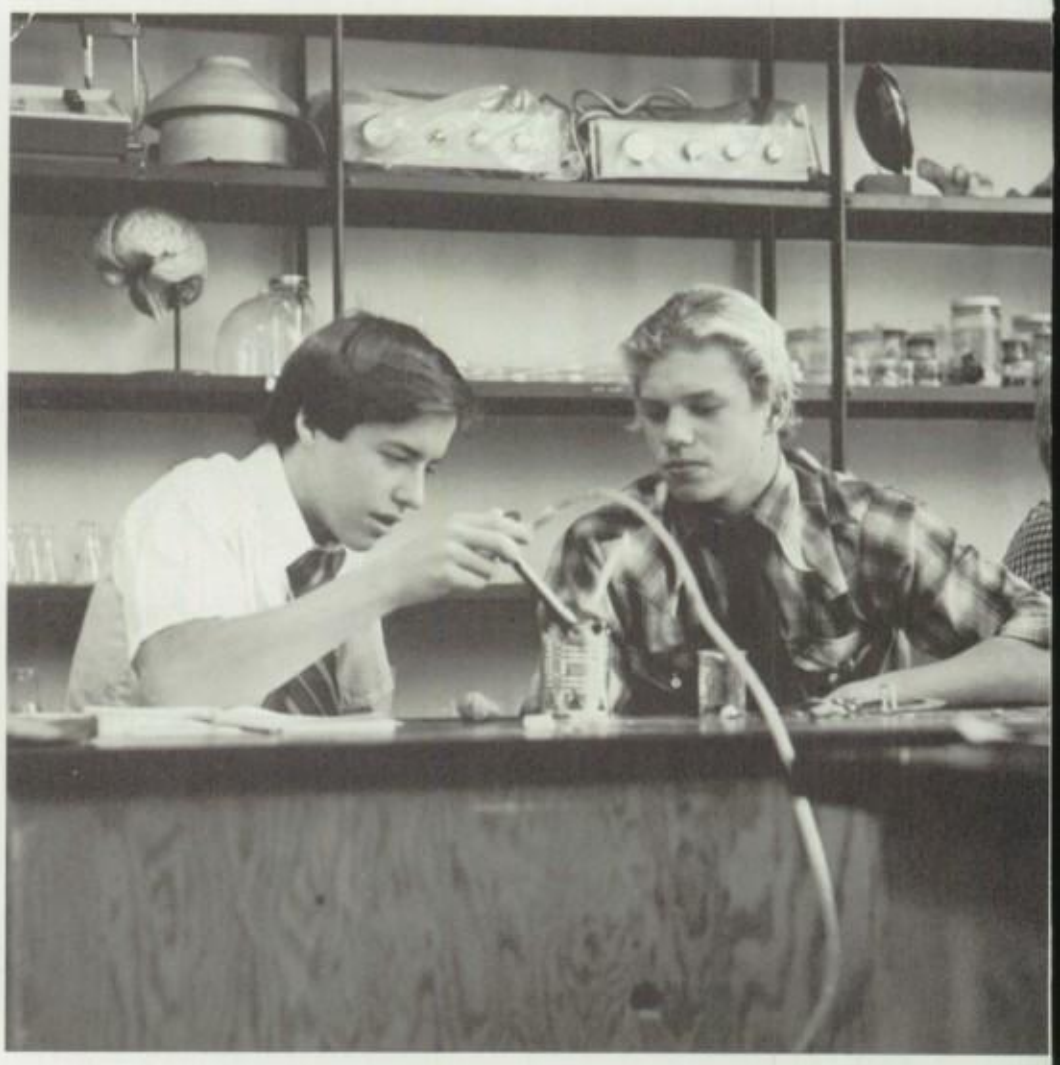
We must, it is ordained by God!



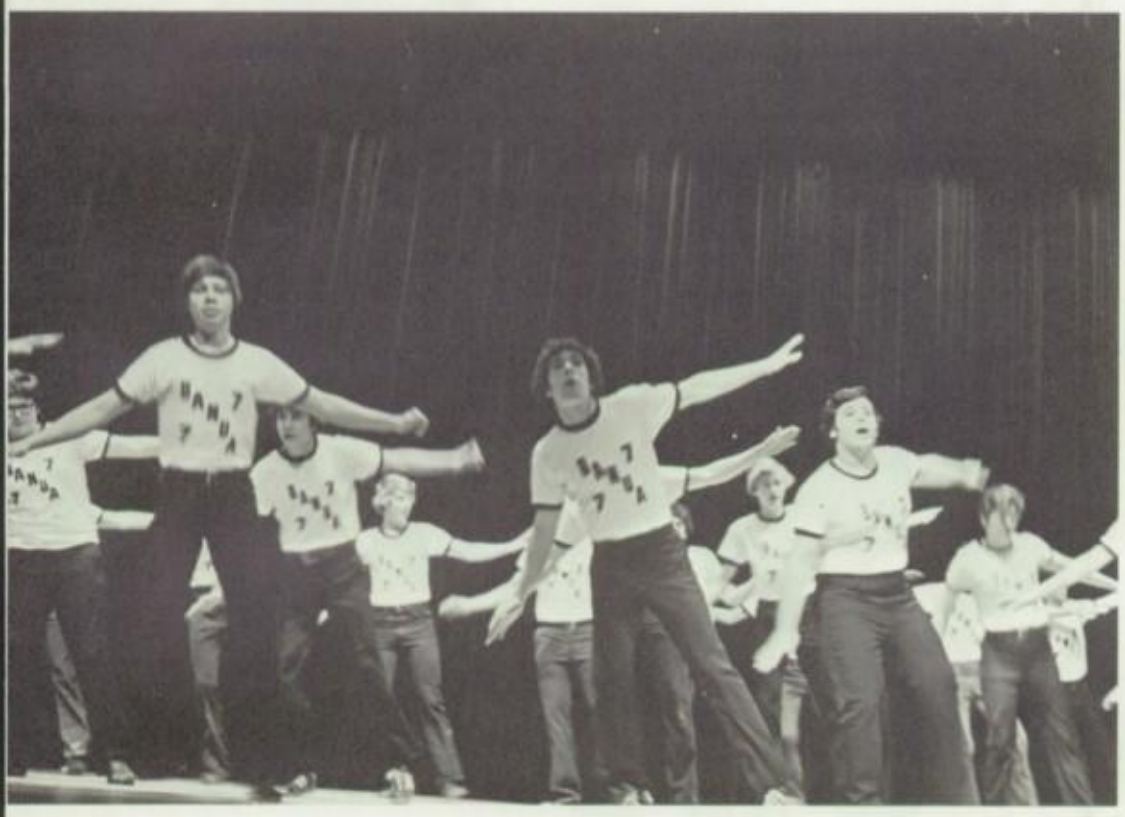
How can we not become great?







With such intellect, spirit, and endurance,



we will show ourselves to the world.

Senior Retreat

An important aspect of religious growth, this year's Senior Retreats held at the River Forest Priory, proved to be both appreciated and very successful. Consisting of groups ranging from 25 students, the Retreat began on Friday afternoon with Mass celebrated by several Dominicans Fathers and was followed by an evening of meditation. To facilitate the primary intention of the Retreat, to gain a deeper insight into one's relationship with God, each was provided with his own private room. Informal discussions were conducted stressing honesty and openness. In addition, special sessions emphasizing personal prayer and reflection were held. The students participated in evening prayer with the Dominican community in chapel. Sunday Mass ended the Retreat. To add variety students were allowed intermittent free periods. Activities ranged from playing pool in the recreation room to playing football on the field. Father Ostdiek and Sister Meegan sacrificed their personal time for the Seniors and made these spiritual events possible.

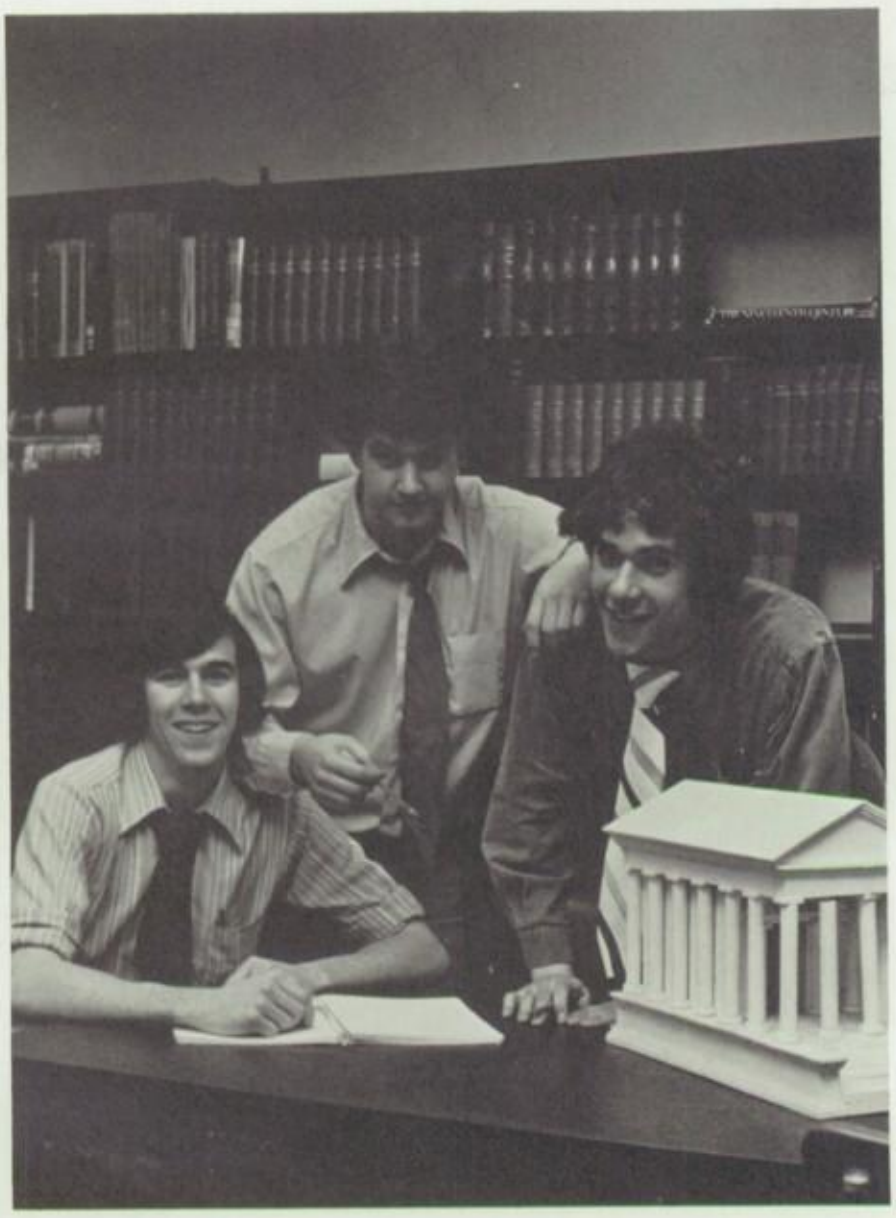
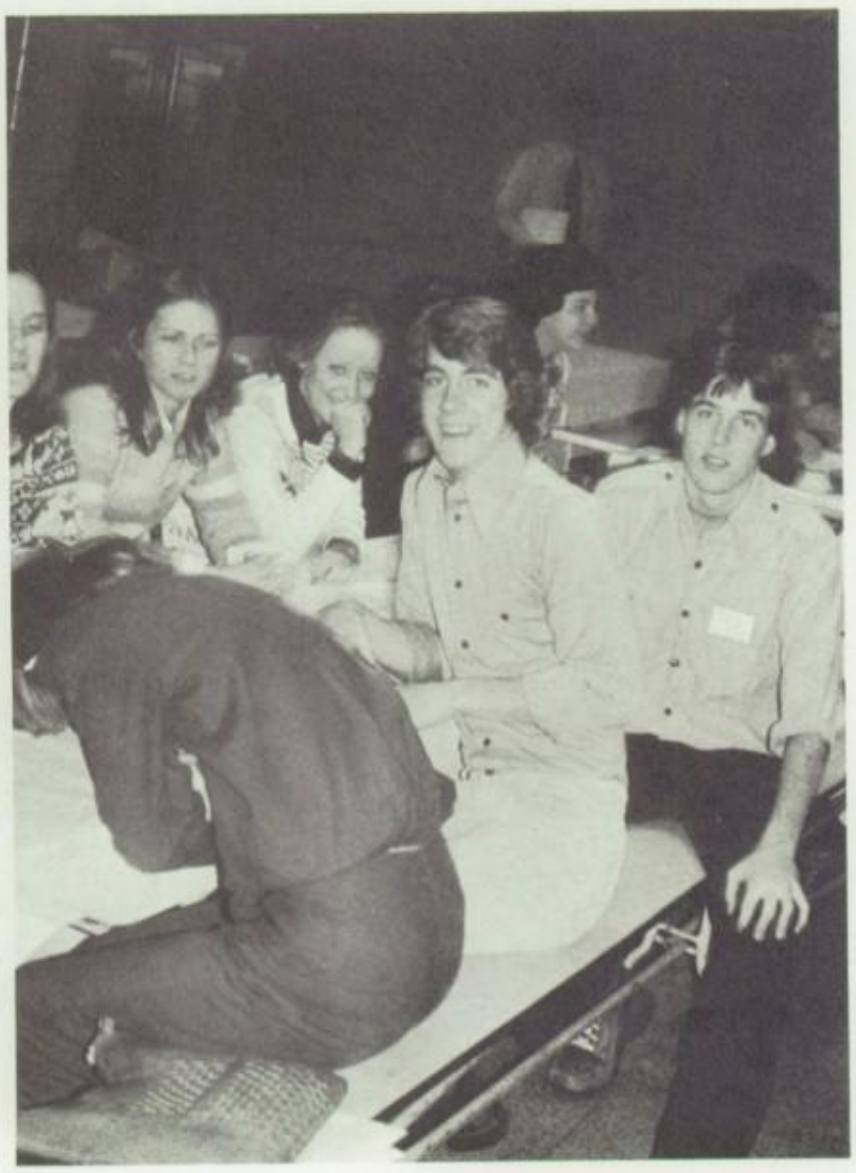
Conference '77



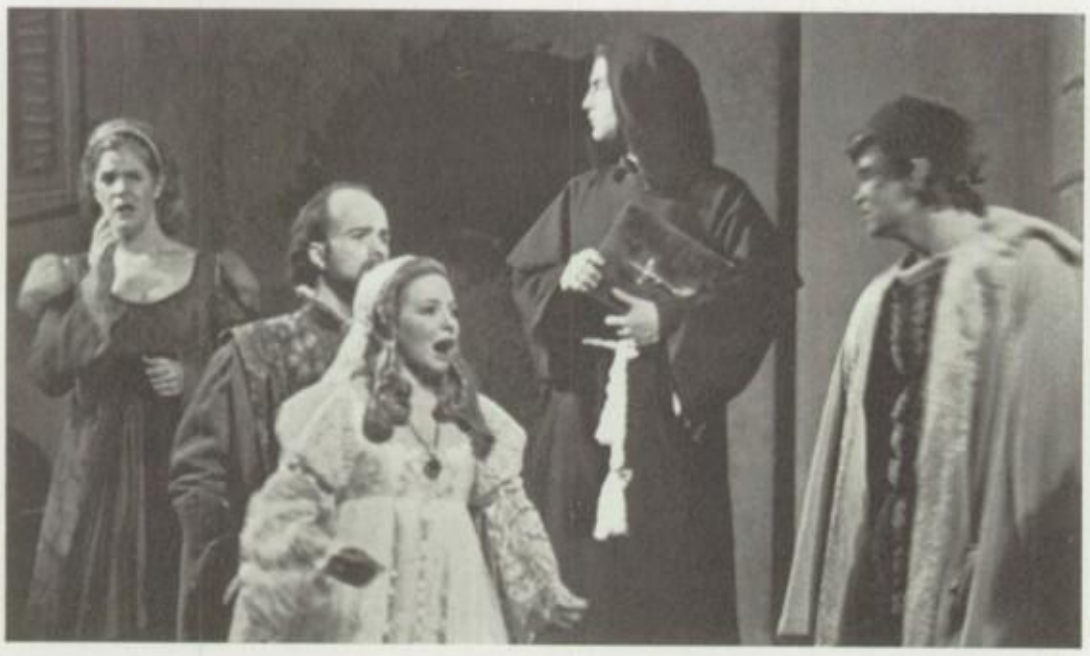
Mike Gies, Brian Murphy and Peter Urbain plan for Conference '77.



"American Justice--Is it Working For You?" was the theme of Conference '77 attended by three hundred students from Fenwick, Trinity and Oak Park-River Forest High Schools on February 10, in the Fenwick Auditorium. Conference chairpersons, Brian Murphy and Mike Gies (Fenwick), Ella Jirka (Trinity), and Irene Sang (OPRF) introduced the speakers and presided over the meeting. In his keynote address, State's Attorney Bernard Carey discussed the criminal justice system and the courts. He noted that it was to the advantage of felons to delay their trail dates. By so doing witnesses against them might be intimidated and/or refuse to testify after many annoying continuances. Tony Kerner and Helena Kerner Stern addressed the group pleading that the goal of the court system should always be justice. A spirited question and answer period followed each presentation.

Topics such as white collar crime, juvenile justice, the prison system and penal reform were intelligently discussed in seminars held after the session in the auditorium. The film, Children in Trouble was then viewed. Dinner and good conversation ended the afternoon. Conference '77 allowed all participants to look at the issues discussed and to make their own decisions with informed conviction.

National Players Return To Fenwick



The National Players returned to Fenwick under the leadership of Reverend Gilbert V. Hartke, O.P. Consisting of graduate students from the Catholic University of America, the talented troupe has expanded its activities from three months to a busy full year, with three months of study and rehearsals and the other nine for performances throughout the country and abroad. The Players' activities deal with many kinds of media, from off-Broadway theatre to television, and they entertain a varied audience, including the President and thousands in Europe.

Now in its twenty-second year, the Players brought to Fenwick on October 29 and 30, Shakespeare's MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING and George M. Cohan's THE TAVERN. Students had the opportunity to see the inspired version of the Bard's classic comedy on Friday afternoon, while parents and culture devotees were entertained by the Cohan rendition at an evening performance on the following day. Students, members of the Mother's Club, and the faculty, headed by Fr. Landmesser, again spent a great deal of time and effort to make this theatre an impressive event.

Spirit Week

Even before school had started this year, plans for Spirit Week were being made. When the week of October fourth had arrived, these plans exploded into a burst of enthusiasm. The student body once again showed the world what pride and spirit mean. The students were encouraged individually and as a class to exhibit their pride on their respective class days. Brewing all week, the excitement peaked on Friday. Entering the school, students were greeted by a decorations of streamers, a wave of black and white attire, a barrage of hats and buttons, and, most importantly, and ominous silence which echoed through the halls. This silence was shattered by a deafening roar, never before quite equaled, when the opening shot to begin the Homecoming pep rally was fired. The rally, led by Brian Murphy and Bill Moran, featured an appearance by distinguished Fenwick graduate and Heisman trophy winner Johnny Lattner.

Organized by Pat Adrews and John Forsythe, the Homecoming dance on Friday evening proved to be highly successful. It featured the outstanding band "Catch." The spirit of the school carried through to the Homecoming game on Sunday. The fighting Friars got off to a good start, but Leo managed to sneak in a touchdown, leaving the half at 6-6. During the halftime festivities, an excellent Sophomore float won first prize. In the second half, the Friars stopped several Leo drives thus sending the game into overtime. In overtime, the Friars lost to Leo by a controversial extra point kick, 13-12.

Football

The 1976 Friars faced the season with one goal in mind: to strengthen the reputation of Fenwick's football team. With dedicated managing by Coach George Badke, they achieved the right to call themselves "North Side Champs," by beating all other teams in the division: Weber, Gordon, and Loyola.

The team's first win came in pre-season play against the Mendel Monarchs at Oak Park Stadium. Pete Magrini gained 115 yards to lead the team to a 36-14 victory.

Fenwick then travelled to the infamous St. Rita "Dust Bowl." The Friar defense was strong in the first half as it kept St. Rita scoreless. In the second half, the opposition broke loose scoring twenty points while stopping all Fenwick attacks.

A week later, on a wet turf at Oak Park Stadium, the Friars put on a gusty performance against highly rated Brother Rice. Early in the game senior Brian Joss blocked a Crusader punt, allowing Kevin Ryan to pass 23 yards to Tom Nelson, for a touchdown. The Friars led 6-0 until 4 minutes were left to play, when Rice took the game 7-6.

On the road again at Gately Stadium, the Friars fell to a strong De La Salle team 28-16. Tom Carstens and Dave Gall scored for the team.

The fans had high spirit for the homecoming game against Leo. The festivities were dampened by a contoversial overtime game that was marked by numerous penalties. In the end, Fenwick lost 13-12.

The team took the loss for the better and did not let it get them down as they surprized Gordon Tech the following week. The contest was a see-saw battle through out, but Fenwick, in the end, triumphed 26-21.

The following week, the Friars' travelled to Gately Stadium, but lost to an excellent Mt. Carmel team 36-14.

Recovering, the Friars trounced the Ramblers of Loyola. Beating them for the first time in ten years, Fenwick poured it on with a score of 28-7, with help from Dave Gall, Pete Magrini, and Brian Joss.

Outstanding performances in this year's season resulted in Pete Magrini, Tom Nelson, and Bryan Schumann being named to the All-Catholic Second Team. Only Loyola's defeat of Gordon Tech in the last game of the season kept Fenwick from the play-offs. Yet the amount of time and effort dedicated by the team allowed the Fighting Friars to cap off the "North Side Championship."

Basketball

When the 1977 season began, the Fenwick Basketball Team set out to play the best they could, and finished 5-7 in the Catholic League. Wins against Oak Park and Gordon were highlights of the season.

On December 20, students from both schools packed the Oak Park fieldhouse for the Third Annual Village Championship. The first half was very sluggish as the officials called an extremely tight game. Players from both teams fouled out in the first quarter. By the end of the half though, Fenwick led by a small margin.

The second half, however, exploded with excitement when good shooting from Perry Novelli and the Oak Park rivals drove the fans wild. Late in the fourth quarter, the Friars established a slim lead, and with expert ball handling by Wendell Anders and Chris Beeman, Fenwick kept ahead. The team withstood a late Husky rally to win 67-65.

Later in the season, Fenwick won an important battle against Gordon, which was 20-2 and ranked ninth in the area. Scoring between the teams was held even, and the Friars led by one point in halftime. With seconds remaining, the Friars scored, putting the game into overtime. In this period, Perry Novelli scored his thiritieth point to put the Friars ahead. Although the Gordon Rams tried one more shot, Novelli blocked it, cinching the win for Fenwick 64-62.

Coach Galvin trained the team to work with spirit and dedication: players worked together to drive the team forward. Co-captain Perry Novelli led the team in scoring and re-bounding. Quarterback of the team, Co-Captain Wendell Anders upheld Fenwick's tradition of smooth ball handling. In addition, Junior, Brian Liston worked with Novelli for accurate shooting and strong rebounding. Center Joe Bresnahan played an excellent game, and Manny Massani kept the team moving with his speedy style. Seniors Mike O'Neil, Dan Kerrigan and Louis Jordan played important roles, and Sophomore Marty Finan came through in the later stages of the season.

Leading the team to victory in their many games was Perry Novelli, who was voted Most Valuable Player. He made the All Catholic League Team and received an honorable mention as All-Area. Wendell Anders also received an Honorable Mention. In all games, the team played their best, often against tough odds. The team looks forward to next year when Juniors Brian Liston and Manny Massani, and Sophomores Joe Bresnahan and Marty Finan will return.

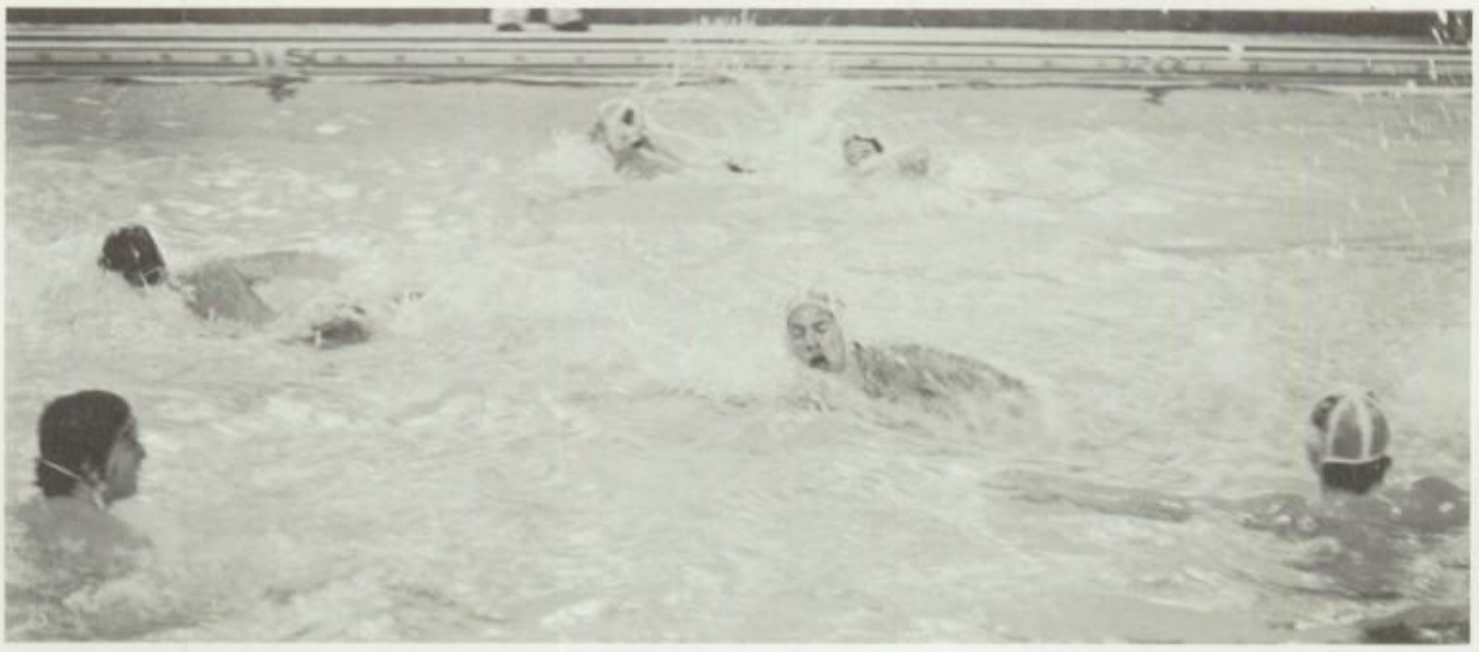
Water Polo

State Champs
Catholic League Champs



The action was fast and furious in all games, but Fenwick always won.

This year's water polo team proved again that Fenwick was among the best in the country. Winning 27 games this year, all but two by scoring more than ten goals per game, the Friars extended the team record to 180-1. The team set its sights on nothing less than the State Championship, and after re-taking the Catholic League Title, brought back the honor to Fenwick. The team went on the Midwest tour, which included beating the winner of the State of Michigan.

Head Coach Hal White, after his long, hard efforts, was elected "Coach of the year". Coach Richard Townsend helped much in the making of the winning team. Among the leaders of the team were Jeff Wimer, elected Most Valuable Player, Bruno Szustak, Russ Curry, and Frank Lopez, elected to the All-State Team. With the tremendous performance of the other players, the team had a superb undefeated season.

Bruno Szustak receives his award at States.

Swimming: Second In State

The 1976-77 Fenwich Swimming Team proved to be one of the best in the School's history. After an impressive season in which all but three school records were broken, the team came within thirty-three points of a state championship. The powerful Friar state team consisted of Captains Dan Cronin and Russ Curry, Seniors Dan Watts, Dale Dionesotes, Jeff Wimer, Bruno Szustak, Mike Noonan and Ken Stoffel, Juniors Jonas Zymantas and Jim Barron, and Sophomore Robert Ramoska.

In the state meet the 200 Medley Relay team of Dale Dionesotes, Jim Barron, Jeff Wimer and Dan Cronin finished sixth and was an All-State honorable mention selection. In the 200 Individual Medley Jim Barron finished third and was an All-State selection while Russ Curry's sixth place earned him an All-State honorable mention. Robert Ramoska set the state record in the preliminaries for the 500 Freestyle and was named All-American. The 100 Breaststroke was won by Jim Barron who also was an All-State and All-American selection. Dan Cronin, Robert Ramoska, Russ Curry and Jonas Zymantas were the State Champions in the 400 Freestyle Relay and were selected to the All-State and All-American Teams. Jonas Zymantas was State Champion -- just .18 seconds off the state record. in the 200 Freestyle, and was named All-American in the 100 and 200 Freestyle. Coach Hal White was named Coach of the Year by the Illinois Association of Swim Coaches.

Coach Rich Townsend's Junior Varsity led by Mike Krug, Mark Jenkins, and Carl Zillier captured the City Championship. Impressive season performances were also turned in by Tom Gottfreid, Tim Barron, Jim Farmer and Dan McCafferty.

The prospects for the future look good with the return of such stars as Jonas Zymantas, Robert Ramoska, Jim Barron and the combined strength of the Junior Varsity.

Cross Country

A promising year was dampened when injuries struck key members of the Senior cross country team. While Senior Paul Godlewski fell victim to a bone fracture, Junior John Starshak was stricken with a respiratory difficulty. Fortunately, a strengthening of health, compiled with underclassmen support, earned a fourth place in the Chicago Catholic League. Throughout the season, captain Paul Lunecki finished among the top five runners in the state, and eventually had a good showing downstate. Other seniors, among them Sherman MacLawhorn and James Wright, formed the nucleus of the team, while sophomore Dave Stosur placed consistantly high to help round out the top five. The Freshmen team, undefeated in dual meets, sped to the Chicago Catholic League title, outdistancing second place Gorden Tech by a substancial margin.

Golf

Second In Catholic League

The 1976 Fenwick Varsity Golf Team concluded the year with a record of 3-4. The season began with a loss to a strong Loyola team, but picked up pace beating both St. Ignatius and cross-town rival Oak Park. In the next match St. Laurence edged Fenwick by one stroke. The Friars, however, bounced back to easily defeat Weber. Their season ended with a pair of losses to Loyola and Brother Rice.

Bruce Gianpetro pitches toward the goal under the watchful eye of Father O'Malley.

Leading the Friars throughout the season were Seniors Tony Cascino and Mike Sullivan, both exceptional golfers. Seniors Bruce Gianpetro, John Barrett, Pat Thorton, Brian Sullivan, and Marty Costello also provided a solid base for the team. The year proved to be a profitable one for the team which captured second place in the Catholic League. However, the Friars were disappointed in the sectional playoffs where they fell short of third place by a single stroke. Golf at Fenwick holds a good future, as the team is constantly improving. With the promising young clubs of Hank Giantasio, Tony Hugar, and Chris Unger the season looks good for next year's golfers.

Paul Gruszka shows the form that gained him crucial wins.

The 1976 Fenwick Tennis Team finished a disappointing fifth in the Catholic League to miss the play-offs for the first time in some years. A tough loss to powerful St. Laurence in the season finale eliminated Fenwick from further contention. Tom O'Bryan, Peter Haleas, Ralph Orland, and Captain Ron Lorenzini were the only four seniors on the team leading Fr. Nicholas Ashenbrener to look forward to a stronger team next season featuring many returning lettermen. Particularly impressive this year was the performance of Junior Paul Gruszka in pressure matches and Freshman Kevin McAllister who went undefeated.

Illustrating good doubles play is Mike Burton.

Hockey

This year's edition of Fenwick's Hockey Team enjoyed a very respectable season with a 11-8-1 in Chicago Catholic Hockey League competition and a 15-11-4 overall record. Coached by Jack Porn, and led by Co-captains John Hopkins, Bob Paladino, and Marty Costello, the squad was just eased out of a playoff berth this year by De La-Salle. Season highlights included fine goal tending by Andy Romero and Joe Pupillo. Dave Finnigan collected 29 goals and 18 assists and placed fifth in CCHL scoring; Marty Costello was close behind with 21 goals and 18 assists to finish eighth. CCHL All-Stars were Bob Paladino, Pat Thornton, Rich Herout, and Dave Finnigan. All through the season the puckster's contests were marked by Friar hustle, aggressiveness, and spirit.

Bowling

Second In League

This year the bowling team returned for its second season. After finishing a respectable third behind Gordon Tech and Loyola last year, the team set its sites for first place this year. The recruiting of competent varsity bowlers and better organization were the keys to the team's successful season.

Improvement is seen by the varsity team's second place position in the Catholic League. Highlights of the season were the Friar's spectacular string of shutouts. Among these victories was the defeat of last year's champions, Gordon Tech. With confidence and a winning momentum, Fenwick's bowling team emerged successfully.

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Council

When the class of 1977 were freshmen, they were told that they had great potential. At the end of their junior year, they proved their capabilities. Twenty members of this class ran for office in the Student Council. Those elected, earned their membership. Along with representatives from the three classes, they brought total membership in the Student Council to a figure of fifty-seven. This enabled them to boast of being the largest and one of the most successful Councils in the school's history.

The Student Council's first job was Homecoming. Senior Pat Andrews took this upon himself by volunteering for Homecoming chairman. The spirit of the school was truly exhibited by a successful Homecoming-Week. On Friday, the Student Council saw to it that the halls were decorated with black and white streamers, that students wore black and white clothes, that hats and buttons were worn, and most of all that there was ominous silence in the halls. The week culminated in a successful pep-rally, dance, and game.

Brian Murphy, chairman of Conference '77, achieves a landmark goal. For the first time in 60 years, Conference '77 was held at Fenwick. The Student Council also sponsored many successful mixers, gym nights, and various other activities. Both the Junior and Senior Proms also turned out well.

When asked to comment on the accomplishments of the Student Council this year, President John Forsythe stated: "I'm happy with our accomplishments this year. The activities that we planned and carried out went well, however, there are some which never left the planning stage. I feel that I, the Council, and the rest of the school have all grown alot this year. I feel, however, that students should grow in responsibility. This would be very healthy for them. If this is done, I believe both Fenwick and the Council will see even bigger and better years to come."

Speakers Reach Nationals

Fenwick's Speech and Debate team continued its record of success this year. Mike Pritz and Al Smith, and Jim and Tom Duffy qualified for Catholic Nationals in debate, while Paul Pusateri, Mike Burton, Fred Zimmerman and Pete Jirasek qualified for individual speaking. The Duffy brothers managed to add the following to their list of credits: first place at Homewood-Flossmoor in a 60 team tournament; reached the finals in the national invitational at the University of Chicago; nominated to compete at ISTA state finals; reached the quarter-finals in the National Forensic League Tournament for the Southern Illinois District. Paul Pusateri, Pete Jirasek and Joe Prezpiorka qualified for IHSA sectionals in speech, and Pete finished in the top ten in the State of Illinois for extemporaneous speaking. Others who aided Fenwick in capturing three second place trophies in the Catholic League and helped make impressive showings in the Catholic Nationals and IHSA debate tournaments were Ed Slizewski, Terry Najder, Mychal Simonian, Tom Haleas, Mark Smetana, and Andre Quattrochi. Through a great deal of effort and excellent direction from Coaches Arellano and Mietlicki Fenwick's Forensics teams have managed to meet and in many cases better previous performances.

Students For A Christian Society

Students for a Christian Society is the organization of the school which consists of students who wish to participate in our community. The Advent Drive is an example of their work. The students made the drive a success by collecting food to donate to the poor. Led by Father Harold Ostiek, O. P., and Sister Mary Megan, O.P., the organization helped plan retreats and spiritual activities for the school.

Biology Club

Field trips, laboratories, and movies made the Biology Club one of the most active organizations at Fenwick. Mr. Rudnik led members to places of scientific interest, such as botanical gardens, the Shedd Aquarium, and the Field Museum. The Club also sponsored movies, shown at Fenwick every month, which dealt with a wide range of materials from life saving to the enviroment. The students in the club express a genuine interest in science and gladly share their knowledge in a particular field with other members. The year was successful and all members profited from the experience.

The German Club (Deutscher Verein) was as large as ever this year with some one hundred fifteen members. The German Club thus remained the largest and the most active club at Fenwick. Through the efforts of Father Ashenbrener and the officers President Ed Koeller, Vice President Tom Fitzsimmons, Secretary Bob Finnegan, and Treasurer Mike Gies, the Club engaged itself in a large numer of activities that promote German Culture. All members enjoyed the outstanding German meal at the House of Studies, numerous Gym Nights, a Christmas party, slide shows, a field trip to a German movie, and an end of the year picnic.

Chess

Under the able leadership of Mr. Galla and Mr. Spitznagel, the chess game becomes more than just a pastime. Members participate in intramural tournaments to practice for interleague play with other high schools. During daily practice sessions in Room One, members refine their skills.

After a loss this year of key players, the Chess Club has dedicated itself to the future, placing the success of the team in the hands of a large number of underclassmen participating in the club this year. The current seniors have devoted their time towards the improvement of the underclassmen in the Chess Club by offering them the knowledge which they have obtained during their years at Fenwick. The underclassmen have shown promise assuring that future Fenwick Chess Teams will attain and surpass the past performances of the Team, which was recently rated number four in the State.

Math Competition Club

The Math Competition Club is one of the most active organizations at Fenwick. Members are given the opportunity to test their knowledge of principles in mathematical, scientific, and business situations. Members compete amongst themselves on an intramural level in order to practice for direct competition with high schools across the nation through the National Math League, the Archdiocese, and the University of Santa Clara, and St. Francis College. Participating members receive valuable experience which helped them when taking college tests such as the SAT and ACT. The top ranked scorers included Joe Przepiorka, Ralph Orland, Frank Stepnowski, and John Forsythe. Special thanks goes to Mr. Finnell, who organized the club, for his research, bi-weekly meetings, and instructional guidance.

Viri Romani

Viri Romani, the Latin Club of 1977, continued to stress the importance of classical language and culture. Under the leadership of Father Joseph Hren O.P., Viri Romani (the men of Rome) presented various activities focused on classical life. The events of the year included the annual Roman dinner, a wine tasting event, and a triumphant victory over the German Club in a football game. The club's most notable activity is Latin Interest Week, a special presentation of Roman art and literature. This year, however, the most exciting event of this year's club was an Easter Trip to Rome. The enthusiasm of this year's club is a clear indication that Latin continues to thrive at Fenwick. Lithuanian Club

Moderator: Mr. Galla

The Lithuanian Club, moderated by Mr. Edmund Galla, was formed five years ago in the hopes of bringing the culture and traditions of Lithuania and its people to the Fenwick community. Since its inception, the club has sponsored various lectures and slide presentations after school for any person interested. This year, as in the past, the Club made a strong effort to depict the customs and language of Lithuania at the two Fenwick Open Houses. The members are proud of their heritage and hope to see the Club continue for years to come.

Vitas Laniausas, President Brian Rejsek, Mr. Galla, Victor Radvilas.

Ski Club

Several successful trips encouraged members ranging from freshmen through seniors to join the Ski Club this year. Activites included several outings through the winter months, along with trips to Wilmot Mountain and Alpine Valley. If one cannot manage to even stand up straight on skis he need not worry; the skills of the members vary from experienced skiers with advanced racing abilities to recreational participants and eager learners. All of the members shared enthusiasm over the success of this year.

MODERATORS: Mrs. Michele Peternel and Miss Christine Malocha.

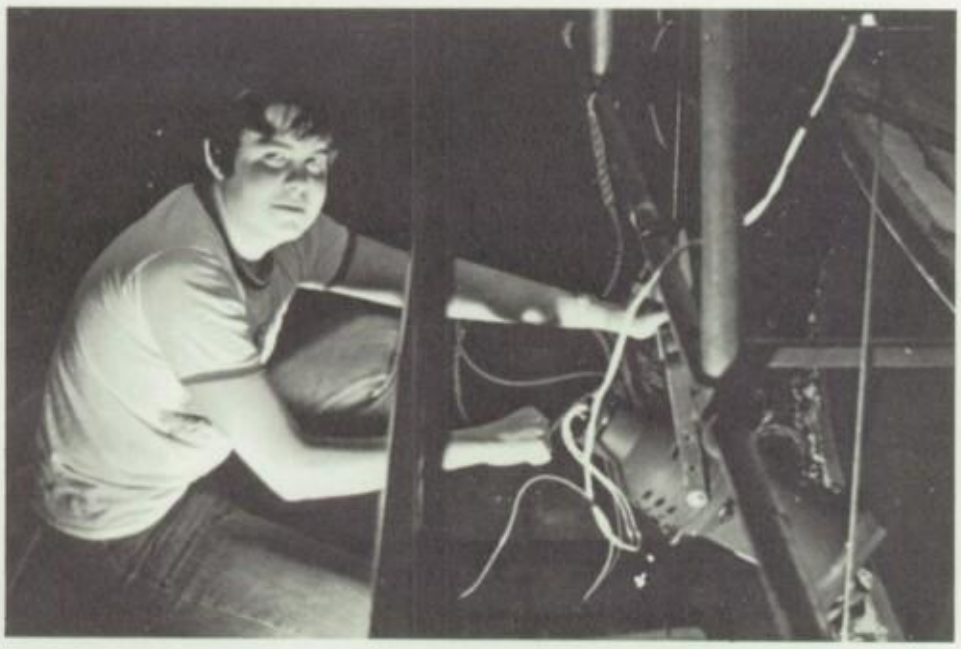
The Blackfriars Guild

In 1576, the first permanent theatres were opening, Among these was the Blackfriars Theatre. Built in the Blackfriar area of London, the theatre reflected its fashionable residential surroundings. Since boys companies were preferred to adult players, Richard Farrant, founder of the Blackfriars Theatre, used the theatre as training grounds for novice actors in preparation for their performances before royal audiences. The term "Blackfriars" refers to the Dominican Fathers and the long, black cape worn as part of their habit.

In 1945, Fenwick began its formal theatre tradition by introducing the Blackfriars Guild into the school's extracurriculum. The Guild's first presentation was a modern musical comedy called "Best Foot Forward", the first of many outstanding plays. Formed for the purpose of educating its student members interested in the theatre arts, it has become one of Fenwick's long-standing organizations. This year, the guild presented three productions: "Once In A Lifetime", a comedy; "Banua '77", a review; and "Finian's Rainbow", a musical comedy. The proud tradition of the Blackfriars Guild will assuredly be carried on in the years to come.

Stage Crew



The Stage Crew not only constructs and moves scenery and runs lights for the three Blackfriars Guild productions but they are also responsible for preparing the stage for the various assemblies held in the auditorium throughout the year. When the National Players arrived at Fenwick, the crew was there to help them move in and set the scenery for "Much Ado About Nothing" and "The Tavern". Many members of the Stage Crew also work with the Chicago Metropolitan Theater Guild during the summer.

Father's Club

Two of the most important organizations at Fenwick are the Mothers' Club, moderated by Father Hren, and the Fathers' Club, moderated by Father Dooley. These two groups organize many functions to raise money for the school and provide practical and recreational activities for the students and their families. The School Calendar, Communion Breakfast, Parent's Night, Corned Beef and Cabbage Dinner, the Annual Raffle, Christmas Specials, Day of Recollection, International Night, Health Clubs, and Athletic Banquets are some of the events they manage. In addition, the Father's Club sponsored a Father-Son Night which featured Jim Finks General Manager of the Chicago Bears Football team. All Fenwick students appreciate the dedication and the hard work of these organizations.

A sonnet to ode, to sing of the past
To boast of things to be no more.
From hence we leave, we'll not be last
To remember these times o'er and o'er.
A click, a pen, a reel running
Cannot match the minds recollection.
So we'll meet and tell of things we've had fun in
And watch the years pass, five and ten.
We wrote, we laughed, we studied, we played,
We read, we swam, we listened, we ran.
These pages, this book proves we've made the grade
In a manner considered proud and grand.
But we'll stay with each other to the very end,
And soar to heights on wings done in heaven.
-- Joseph Przepiorka, '77

BLACKFRIARS was completed in February of 1977. The staff is grateful to many for the successful completion of this book. We extend special recognition to Mr. Jim Bull and The American Yearbook Company and to Mr. Ed Carney and the personnel of Root Studio. We express a sincere thanks to the entire staff and student body of Fenwick who cooperated completely with our every request.
